First Teachers @ Home offers a game-changing option by starting at the very beginning: Pre-K education, taught by parents, in the home. This comprehensive, very easy to use 16-week Curriculum educates parents how to work with their kids on pre-literacy, math, science, social studies, health and safety. It features surprisingly simple exercises that parents and children can do at home, behavior modification techniques to help kids focus better, improves interaction between parents and children, and positive parenting skills. The highly effective Curriculum is an evidence-based teaching guide for groups who want to launch a First Teachers @ Home program in their own community, for childcare centers and as a complete tool kit for all parents to use with their kids.
